

Rose Schooler

VICE PRESIDENT AND GENERAL MANAGER, GLOBAL INTERNET OF THINGS (IOT), INTEL

Rose manages overall revenue across the various sales, technical support, and channels capabilities to deliver IoT solutions to Intel customers and partners. Previously, she served as Intel's vice president of the IoT Strategy and Integrated Products Division in the Internet of Things Group (IoTG). Prior to her role in IoTG, Rose was vice president of the Data Center Group and general manager of Intel's Communications and Storage Infrastructure Group. Rose holds a bachelor's degree in ceramics science and engineering from Pennsylvania State University and was named to "Who's Who in Business" by the Arizona Republic in 2016. She has been a member of industry boards including ATIS and TIA and serves on NCWIT and the Industry and Professional Advisory Council (IPAC) for the School of Electrical Engineering and Computer Science at Penn State. She joined Cloudera's board of directors in December 2017.